Maleak Goes to Church (My Mom's a Stud) (Volume 3) Sonorra C McMath

In this volume, Maleak and Jaeqwan stumble upon a tent revival where they learn for the first time that “same sex” relationships are considered inappropriate from a religious perspective. Maleak shows anger as he refuses to accept the demise of his family who demonstrates love for all. Understanding that people have different beliefs, the adults decide to meet a spiritual guru to address the matter. While gaining information about religion and spirituality, one of the adults shocks everyone with a surprising request. Read on to learn what happened with Maleak, Jaeqwan and the surprise request. Maleak Goes to Church is the third book of the "My Mom's a Stud" series created and written by Sonorra McMath. The series was designed to address adult topics from a child's perspective. It is designed for anyone seeking a non-threatening way to facilitate discussions surrounding civil rights challenges including racism, sexual harassment, bullying, oppression, and hate crimes. The series was specifically created for those seeking a better understanding of the LGBTQ community. The writing segment is a great start for anyone interested in becoming an author. Improving upon writing skills, exercising creativity, and increasing knowledge and acceptance of others also increases a sense of self-worth. Open dialogue is important and encouraged. Develop the story line using the words and cultural experiences of those involved. Share your knowledge, write a segment, or assist in whatever way that is most comfortable for you, your family, or your client/group. Send your completed version of the workbook to the Sonorra with an additional fee, and she will create an edited version of the book. Your name will show as a co-author of the book, and your friends will be able to purchase the book directly from the distributor (see details inside). These books are well received by male and female children and adults from all backgrounds and cultures. Enjoy your experience.
