What to Ask the Doc: The Questions to Ask to Get the Answers You Need Margaret Fitzpatrick, Linda Burke, Daryl Lee

"Do you have any questions?"

Has a doctor ever asked you this and you couldn't think of any questions until you arrived home?

"I would ask questions if I knew WHAT to ask" is a common refrain that we hear from patients and families.

What to Ask the Doc is the solution. This book provides you with the questions to ask to get the answers you need.

With question categories and feature articles on over 80 healthcare concerns, What to Ask the Doc is the perfect companion to bring with you to your next doctor's appointment or when accompanying a friend or loved one to the doctor.

Whether waiting in the emergency room with your sick child or responding to the call to come to the hospital because Aunt Martha broke her hip, What to Ask the Doc has the questions to ask to help you to get the information that you need.

Countless sources of healthcare information are available today: books, magazines and the Internet all can be helpful resources. But specific information about your health should come from your doctor. What to Ask the Doc gives you the essential tools for getting that information. It gives you knowledgeable questions-the kind of questions doctors and nurses ask when confronted with our own healthcare issues.

The purpose of this book is not to give medical advice; that should come from your doctor. Instead, What to Ask the Doc gives you the questions to ask to get the answers you need to navigate the world of modern healthcare.
